

Table of Contents

Introduction	i
Foreword	v
Character	Days 1-10
Choices	Days 11-25
Responsibility	Days 26-39
Kindness	Days 40-56
Manners	Days 57-67
Honesty/Integrity	Days 68-82
Trust	Days 83-95
Respect	Days 96-109
Courage	Days 110-125
Equality	Days 126-133
Sharing/Cooperation	Days 134-146
Goal Setting	Days 147-158

Dependable	Days 159-170
Attitude	Days 171-180
About the Author

© YouthLight, Inc.

Responsibility is accepting the results of your own actions.

- ~ If you have acted unkind to someone, then it is your responsibility to apologize.
- ~ If you have chosen to tell a lie, then you must be responsible enough to understand why others may not trust you.
- ~ Sometimes discipline is necessary (for example, if you have misbehaved or broken a class rule).

Being truthful builds your own self-respect.

- ~ When you are truthful on the outside, you'll be peaceful on the inside.
- ~ Respect for yourself can only come with complete truthfulness.
- ~ You cannot respect yourself if you did not tell the truth.

★
★
★
If we respect authority (or laws), we are much safer.

- ~ Authority figures (such as parents, principals, teachers, etc.) are here to help keep us safe.
- ~ Laws are made for our protection.
- ~ Respect for both authority figures and laws help keep our world safer and more orderly.

